

NOVEMBER IS...

- NATIONAL GRATITUDE MONTH
- NATIONAL CAREER DEVELOPMENT MONTH
- MILITARY FAMILY MONTH

For the support...

For helping veterans get hired in newsrooms...
For being a part of our family...

For participating in our #MVJ2021 Convention...

Greetings and happy first week of November!

This is a BIG month for us as a veteran service organization and to express our gratitude for your support. With enthusiasm, commitment, eagerness to learn, collecting feedback from our members' in what they needed, fundraising, grants, and teamwork, we've set the bar high for more exciting opportunities to come. This a month to be grateful for every achievement- as an individual and with a team. We started out with no real structure in how we operated, taking on a learn-as-we-go approach, no compensation for our volunteers, and no well-known reputation. It took time, effort, and sacrifices to commit to something we believed in and to make a positive impact.

With holidays like the Marine Corps birthday (Oorah!), Veterans Day, and Thanksgiving, I emphasize 3 lessons I've learned throughout the military and in journalism:

- 1) Adapt and Overcome
- 2) Servant Leadership
- 3) Recognize the Value and Impact of Ongoing Service

No matter the reason on why veterans chose to serve, they answered the call, and that's what our team did to help our community. The military and journalism presents unique physical and mental challenges that veterans push through. We are taught to push past our comfort zones, look out for the people around you, and work under pressure. With compassion, empathy, and eagerness to learn new things, I'm able to apply all of these lessons through MVJ and in my role as a TV News Producer.

Last month, I represented MVJ at the 2021 Women Veterans Unconference in Las Vegas, NV. Since day 1, MVJ has supported me towards my professional goals. I was trusted in carrying out the mission to do more outreach among women veterans, veterans of color, and military spouses. Within the conference, I felt confident while spreading awareness about our nonprofit, and was excited to be networking with so many other women who served in the military. These women are leaders with a sense of obligation in several areas such as education, storytelling through podcasts and business. I left the event inspired and thankful for the opportunity.

To all veterans of all branches: Thank you for your sacrifice, your bravery, and the example you set for us all. For the military spouses and families, thank you for your support. It is a pleasure to be volunteering on the MVJ team. Have a wonderful Veterans Day/holiday season in advance!

Respectfully, Babee Garcia Director of Digital Strategy and Content

Let's Reach Our Goal!

Each year, our team fundraises on Veterans Day and #GivingTuesday (Nov. 30). We would love to pay our staff, fund more regular freelance gigs for our blog contributors, and expand operations. So we created a Facebook Fundraiser on our public page. Our goal is to reach $5,000 by the end of the month. Can you help us get there and spread the word?
